

A Republic Within A Democracy Within A Republic

What is a Republic within a democracy within a republic? Bouvier's states that a republic is "that form of government in which the administration of affairs is open to all the citizens". Black's Law Dictionary in its First Edition says that a republic is "a state in which the sovereign power is lodged in representatives by the people". Here is what is found in Webster's 1828:

REPUB'LIC, n. [L. respublica; res and publica; public affairs.]

1. A commonwealth; a state in which the exercise of the sovereign power is lodged in representatives elected by the people. In modern usage, it differs from a democracy or democratic state, in which the people exercise the powers of sovereignty in person. Yet the democracies of Greece are often called republics.
2. Common interest; the public. [Not in use.]
Republic of letters, the collective body of learned men.

Republic (republic)

n.

Re*pub"lic

[F. r publique, L. respublica commonwealth; res a thing, an affair + publicus, publica, public. See Real, a., and Public.]

1. Common weal.

[Obs.] B. Jonson.

2. A state in which the sovereign power resides in the whole body of the people, and is exercised by representatives elected by them; a commonwealth. Cf. Democracy, 2.

* In some ancient states called republics the sovereign power was exercised by an hereditary aristocracy or a privileged few, constituting a government now distinctively called an aristocracy. In some there was a division of authority between an aristocracy and the whole body of the people except slaves. No existing republic recognizes an exclusive privilege of any class to govern, or tolerates the institution of slavery.

The(se) united states of America may have been called a "republic" and The United States of America may have become be a democracy within that republic, but what it was then and what it is mostly now is still in fact an Aristocracy as Daniel Webster most simply describes it.

The point is that America has changed modes from being some sort of a republic before and with King George III into somewhat of an aristocracy, into a more federalist aristocracy after the revolution with the Declaration of Independence and Constitution, and from there becoming even a more federally socialist democracy post Civil War with the creation of The United States of America. From there it only got worse into a socio-fascist post 1913 and 1933 corporatocracy which has become even more cemented into fascism by acts committed in years like 1963, 1971, 1999 and 2001. Today the nation known as The United States of America today has declined for the most part into a communistic slave labour prison camp where for the most part the population is totally controlled and indeed physically owned but totally mentally disconnected from those they are ruled by, and more importantly are spiritually disconnected from God and their fellow man. Call it what you will but the people of the United States of America and the world have become slaves within an aristocracy.

There are those that have partially awoken to this fact and want to revolt but if these people think they are going to unwind or somehow conventionally fight this tyranny that took so long to establish they are deluded as they will be defeated almost immediately between some point after they turn off the electronic grid to being put down with weapons of warfare most people have not yet imagined. Revolutionary war is not the answer. The Gordian Knot cannot be untied but must be cut in another way because hell that The United States of America and indeed the whole world has become will fall regardless. The question is will we be ready to create Free Republics in preparation and response such as after great falls of the past? How is this even done and what would they look like? Will we retain our natural law rights by taking the responsibility required now to survive and even prosper by adhering to certain principles and precepts that have been used but almost been forgotten from history?

If it is understood by you to a degree that we ought to be governed not by a privileged few but by God and the Holy Spirit in our hearts, and if you realise that the Way of Truth that was exemplified by the willingness of the historical Jesus to submit only to God and not to men, which He proved by His life and by His subsequent execution purchasing in effect by His blood our freedom is possible and it is that it is He whom you claim as King and Saviour, we would like you to join us for an important event. We would like you to join with us to celebrate and come together in Festival and do hereby cordially invite you to meet, speak, rejoice and share solutions about the truth of His Way and the Kingdom of God that He bestowed to us that hear His voice and which is permitted by our Father in Heaven.

We understand that Satan has been placed to rule the wicked that are with us, and we must live among them. But we also understand that by the grace of God we might be saved and have the opportunity to join together in the Spirit of Christ so that we and indeed the whole world might be saved. Join with us as we make a stand in the revolution of our lives and begin to rebuild a Republic within the republic, understanding that we do not want to necessarily return to the "republic" created by men but to recreate a Free Republic such that was shown by Abraham, Moses and Jesus in which we are not subject to but are in service of our fellow man and subject only to God. We would like to share and would prefer to live by a system that operates by faith, hope and charity, without having to accept and to contribute to benefits and privileges provided by coercively forcing us and our neighbour against our free choice natural law right. We would rather operate properly by free will offerings supplied by those that love one another in accordance with the Way of Christ to provide for the health, education and welfare of the needy of society in benefit to all people.

This can only be done with the Spirit of Christ.

Is It in you?

If it is, join us, as we speak out and seek this kind of government and strive to live by the perfect law of liberty – The love of God, and doing unto others as we would have them do, while loving them as much or more than ourselves. Join and seek with us the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness.

We may have different points of view but if our Spirit is that of Christ we will find it more important to attend to the weightier matters as commanded by Christ such as true Law, Judgement, Mercy and Faith. In conscience we cannot return to “republics” offered by men which do not properly provide any of these. The “Constitution” does not guarantee natural rights but actually usurps them by benefiting the population through covetousness and allows power to be exercised by a privileged few. We understand that the laws given to this land and the contracts that have been agreed to were permitted in the spirit of judgement due to the lack of understanding by its population which must be ruled by the wicked. If you can understand this we invite you to speak and rejoice with us about the alternative and right Way of Christ at the Inaugural Burning Bush Festival.

It is time to celebrate the way back to the perfect liberty that was shown by Christ that has been revealed by the grace of God. We need to share and participate in the spirit of Liberty if freedom is to prevail and so the life and death of Christ was not in vain.

Join us at the Burning Bush Festival which will include discussions, speaking, seminars, workshops, displays, food, drink and entertainment relative to the kingdom of God, which is a celebration of a republic in embryo – a government with Christ as King and our right to be ruled by God. This is your chance to speak up, and participate in solutions to aid in our salvation and others that might be saved...
